Those lazy, hazy, crazy days

The last day of school is always a welcome relief. Summer provides an opportunity to totally relax — no homework, tests, essays, or anything else that comes along with the "the best years of your life." Sun-worshippers take every chance to flock to the beach, while many students take summer jobs to save up a little money. Family vacations are also popular.

As the most popular summer activity, beach-going will never die. The roads to Virginia Beach and Nags Head, North Carolina are worn thin by students looking for sun, sand, and waves. Radio beach reports provide up to date information about the sun tanning index and surfing conditions.

Although summer jobs take up valuable relaxing time, many students work. Jobs are everywhere and lifeguarding is one of the more popular summer jobs.

However, students are found working anywhere from grocery stores to local hospitals. Babysitting is another popular and more flexible job. Money is money — it does not matter where you work to earn it.

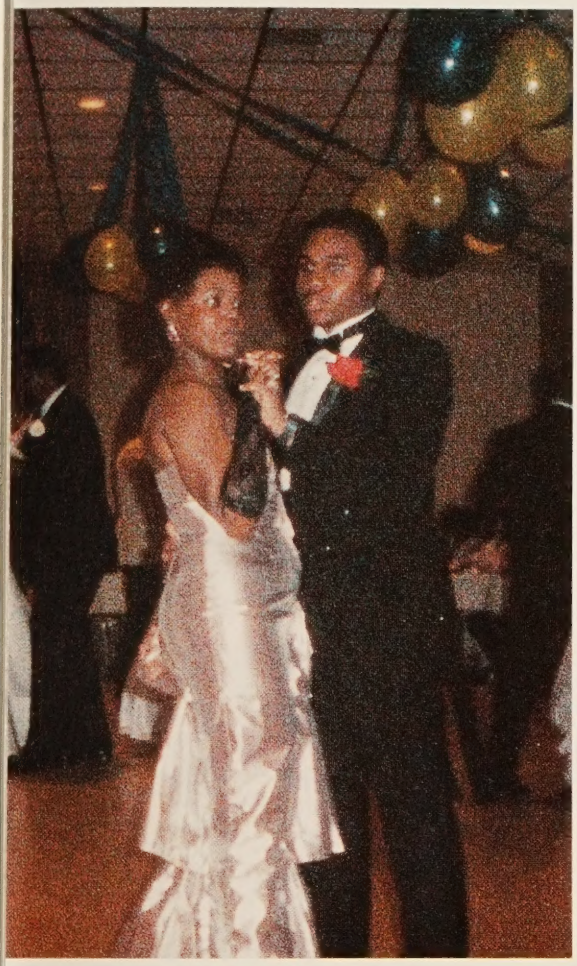
Once again, that final week of summer approaches. Students are anticipating football games, seeing old friends, and buying new school clothes, but the thought of homework is not too appealing. However, all good things must come to an end: September 2, 1986 — the halls of Warwick come alive again.

One of the area's local theme parks is King's Dominion, located just outside Richmond. The expressions of Jerome Campbell and his family show why the park is one of the best for family entertainment.

Surfing never goes out of style. Senior David Vincent prepares to brave the waves at Old Nags Head Pier in North Carolina.

A trip to Walt Disney World provides one with many special memories, as Meg Feely and Ann Feely discovered last August. The pair decided to take a moment to visit with Mickey Mouse during a summer vacation to Florida.

A chance to show off that special formal . . . Eugene Jones and his date danced the night away at a summer debutante ball.



Smiles and waves are given to motorists on the beach road in Nags Head, North Carolina. A few alumni joined Seniors Dawn Eways and Tessy Joyce for a week at the beach.

A moment is taken by Sonja Ruffin and Kym Holloway to reflect on the summer of '86.

Students can not stay away from the beach! Playing volleyball is yet another beach past time.

Early mornings, hard classes, short lunch, and home again

When the alarm goes off . . .

"I'm so tired — I didn't even get to drink my coffee this morning!"

Meg Feely, 12

That ear piercing sound once again . . . is it time to get up already? Rising out of bed is often one of the most difficult tasks of a day; however, this is just the beginning of another school day. After the rush for the bathroom, fights with brothers and sisters, and the attempt to get dressed and eat breakfast, students head for the bus stop or car.

"May I have your attention for the morning announcements . . .". The day has of officially begun.

First period is always rough on a student. At 7:30 in the morning, who can really concentrate on school work? Holding both eyes open is a task too difficult to describe. Second period brings little relief — it is still only 8:30 in the morning. During third period, eyes start opening. Lunch time is on its way for some. After lunch, the afternoon moves quickly. For others, the day does not even end at 1:45. Athletic practice, afterschool jobs, and homework loom ahead. When does a student rest? Probably never.

After lunch in the cafeteria, Angela Speight takes her tray to the return.

Five minutes slip by quickly in between classes. With books in hand, these students rush from one end of the school to the other.

Students such as Michelle Winfield and Karen Foster, often promote club activities in front of the cafeteria. These two are selling items for a fundraiser.

Never a dull moment! Seniors Jason Beasley and Tim Morgan take a moment from a tough day in school to relax.

Another class period finds Junior Alphenia Ruffin at her locker to change books once more.

Another alternative to the regular school day is Marketing Management, a fairly new program at Warwick. With a little advertisement from students, the class has become quite popular for Seniors.

Home at last! Students hurry out to find their bus before the trip home.

The back parking lot comes alive at 1:45. Trying to beat the busses, students rush to their cars.

The Return of the Pep Rally

With another year came another chance to have pep rallies to build and promote school spirit. The days of pep rallies in the gymnasium returned, with the hope that student cooperation would allow other such events to occur. After the first successful pre-game pep rally for the Varsity Football team, students were commended on their behavior, allowing a Homecoming pep rally to be scheduled.

Pep rallies allow students time to share in class spirit, as well as to promote the spirit of Warwick High School itself. Performances by the Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders highlight the pep rallies, and various coaches were given time to introduce their teams. Spirit prevails at Warwick!

Varsity Football players lead the pep rally with a tremendous display of Raider spirit.

To start the year off right, the Keyettes placed a spirit promotion sign in the main hallway.

Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders work together to add spirit to the pep rally.

The Varsity Football team members demonstrate a few of their drills after being introduced individually.

Members of the Varsity Cheerleading squad pause for a moment before a pep rally begins.

Senior Trinette Doles is all smiles after she is crowned Homecoming Queen. Standing behind her are Terry Judge, last year's queen, and Mr. Richard Stacy.

Trinette Doles Crowned Queen

"Since the ninth grade, becoming Homecoming Queen was one of the things I really wanted out of high school. When my name was called, I was really overwhelmed and bursting with smiles."
Trinette Doles, Homecoming Queen 1986

Homecoming '86 — a time for showing spirit, seeing old friends, dressing up, and adding another victory to the football teams record.

Preparations for Homecoming began two weeks before the game and dance as nominations were made for the Homecoming Court. Through ballots cast in English class, students chose members of the court to represent their grade level.

A Homecoming Assembly was scheduled for Friday, October 3, but was postponed until the following Tuesday due to unusually warm weather. The assembly was held in the gym because of faulty electrical wiring in the auditorium.

At the assembly, members of the Homecoming Court were introduced to the student body. The Senior Court was reintroduced in order to allow students to decide on their choice for Homecoming Queen.

The symbol of Homecoming — Warwick's Homecoming mum.

Varsity Cheerleader Heidi Edelblute leads the Raider spirit that helped to win the game.

Quarterback Bernard Moyler prepares to put the ball into play.

During half-time, the Varsity Cheerleaders relax with alumni cheerleaders to watch the festivities.

From one place to another ... After the marching band had a group picture taken, it was off to Todd Stadium for the game.

Raider band member Amy Feely relaxes for a moment. The band performed during the half-time show at Homecoming.

"We played very well. It was a game where we finally stopped making mistakes and hurting ourselves."

Bill Lyons, Varsity Football Coach

Homecoming '86

Friday, October 10: The Keyettes once again provided students with the opportunity to purchase a mum for that special person. Homecoming mums were delivered before first period, beginning the spirit of Homecoming. A pep rally was also held to prove that the Raiders are indeed number one.

The day finally arrived. The game was held at Todd Stadium at 2:00 in the afternoon. The weather was chilly and the wind was strong. However, Raider spirit was not dampened and our Raiders defeated the Maury Comets 52 to 9. Senior court member Trinette Doles was crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime ceremonies.

From the sidelines, Robert Holden pays strict attention to the action on the field.

Even after the game, the day was not over. The Homecoming dance was held in the Warwick cafeteria from 8:00 until 12:00. Music was provided by Bobby Rascoe, and attendance was high for the festivities. The dance provided another set of memories to conclude Homecoming 1986.

The scoreboard tells it all. Our Raiders dominated throughout the game.

Students gather together in the gymnasium for the Homecoming assembly. A pep rally was also held prior to the game.

A slow dance allows Steve Merendino and his date to get a little closer. Attendance was high the evening of the dance.

After the Bell Sounds

It's 1:45 and it's finally time to go home. Or is it? Many students are just beginning the day when the bell rings at 1:45. Of course, some students still have one more class to look forward to attending.

Others rush to the locker rooms to change for after school sports practice. Various sports also have games, meets, and matches after school. Jobs are another aspect of life after school.

Students put in long hours working for spending money. Club activities take up after school time as well.

Perhaps the most important after school activity is homework. When does it end? Certainly not after the new sounding bell rings through out the hallways. Junior Jennifer Barbour sums it up quite well: "During the school year everything is centered around school. There is no 'after'."

The Senior Class Executive Board meets once a month after school. Members Joe Nocon and Wesley Mills discuss upcoming events with officers Dawn Eways and Hope Solomon.

During the fall, football games are one of the most popular weekend events. Home games are held at Todd Stadium and generally begin at 7:30 pm.

Weekend dances provide students with something to do. Students Ananise Wilkins and Michelle Winfield spend time together at the Homecoming dance.

On the way to a party, students crowd together in a car.

Keyette Ann Feely spends evening hours babysitting for Hilton Elementary School PTA meetings.

Football players make a large after school commitment. Practices are held every day, and games take up weekend time.

After school?

"Working after school is very tiring, but the money helps."
Vickie Johnson, 11

"I've got to study, but I have to work, too."
Theresa Statzer, 11

"It's non-stop. You get up in the morning and you go 'til midnight."
Kathy Martin, 12

Seven classes make for a long day. Seniors Jane Painter and Christy Lilley attend their TAG Internship class every Wednesday.

Todd Stadium holds many Warwick spectators.

Finally — the privilege of eating out for lunch! Seniors Tessy Joyce, Paula Jeffrey, and Meg Feely enjoy that Burger King alternative.

SCA President Eric Moore holds many responsibilities, such as serving as Master of Ceremonies at pep rallies and assemblies.

Special Senior Moments

Finally a senior! Twelve long, hard years seem to all come together when one reaches that last step before going out in "the real world." Although seniors have a limited amount of privileges, the prestige of the title "Senior" itself holds a certain honor.

The most beneficial privilege Seniors hold is going out to lunch. Seniors frequent fast-food restaurants such as Hardee's, Burger King, Pizza Hut, McDonald's, and Taco Bell. Some seniors even go home in order to save a little money. Lunch time also serves as a time to finish up that last bit of homework.

The Senior Class Executive Board began working early in order to prepare for special senior events, such as Prom, Senior Banquet, and, of course, graduation.

A prom decision was made quickly, and reservations were set for May 29, 1987 at the Chamberlain. Graduation day also became a reality: the Hampton Coliseum, June 14,1987. This would mark the end of one part of life and the beginning of another. As Senior Joe Nocon stated, "Graduation is a stepping stone in my life. High school is just another rung on the long ladder of success."

What next? Seniors began preparing for life after high school as early as September. SAT's must be taken, college applications must be filled out, and deadlines must be met. Even with all of the frantic activities and costly Senior expenses, the last year in high school was truly a memorable one for the class of '87.

Senior Class Treasurer Robby Martin and class sponsor Mr. Randy Holder accept dues from Heidi Edelblute.

Senior Class Executive Board members plan and prepare all senior activties. Regular meetings are held twice a month.

Meg Feely is crowned Miss Warwick 1986.

Finalists await the last announcement.

Tamara Nicholson

Miss Warwick 1986

Last April the Keyettes sponsored the annual Miss Warwick Pageant. This pageant allows girls to enter representing the various clubs and sports teams at Warwick High School. A tea is held prior to the pageant to enable the contestants to meet the judges. Talent night is also held before the pageant so that each girl may present her talent, allowing judges to score them accordingly.

On the evening of the pageant, Meg Feely was crowned Miss Warwick 1986. The first runner-up was Tamara Nicholson. Heidi Edelblute was given the Most Talented award. Each of the girls well represented Warwick High School.

First-time blood donor Annette Watson prepares to support the Red Cross by donating a pint of blood.

In order to welcome new students to Warwick, the Senior Class prepared a sign for the main hallway.

Together at Last

On September 23, the Senior Class of '87 gathered on the bleachers outside to share in a moment of Senior spirit and to capture that moment on film. After the announcement was made to release Seniors from class, the football field area came alive for a few mintues.

As Seniors anticipated the day of graduation, many marveled at the fact that they had made it so far already. With excitement about the future ahead, memories of the past were being made. Seniors, look toward the future, but never forget the past. We were the class of '87

SENIORS

On September 2, 1986, we, the class of '87, became seniors. In just nine short months our senior year was over. We, as a class, have gone through hardships, heartbreaks, victories, and defeats. We have complained of Mr. Hayes' test on Senior Skip Day, our English term papers and reading MacBeth. When April came around we ordered our cap and gown. In May we sent out our announcements for graduation. There was sort of a still quietness in the air. Questions filled our head. What's going to happen now? Will I ever see these people again? Some of us looked back and wished for more time to hold on to our friends forever. On that day in June, we finally accomplished the most important thing in the first 18 years of our life, we realized the preciousness of the past year. We could never have been closer to one another than we were during our graduation. Memories are forever — Remember the class of '87!

HOMECOMING

Homecoming is an exciting part of the year to which everyone looks forward. Every year the Senior Class chooses the most popular, charming, socialable girls to represent the Senior Class. This year Dawn Eways (escort — Paul Lambiotte), Amy Riffle (escort — Trey Gillenwater), Margaret Feely (escort — Scott Bohn), and Trinette Doles (escort — Larry Orie) made up the Senior Homecoming Court. The entire school then chooses their favorite girl on the Senior Court, and she represents Warwick High School as Homecoming Queen. On October 11, 1986, the Homecoming Queen was announced and Trinette Doles was crowned our new queen! CONGRAGULATION!

For many years Mr. Hayes has been threating senior goverment students with his "F" stamp. The easiest way to graduate from Warwick is to avoid Mr. Hayes' goverment class, but if that isn't possiable then try to avoid the "F" stamp.

There has been a rumor of an "A" stamp, but none of the class of '87 has yet to see it. It must be a Warwick myth. Just some helpful advice to you rising seniors, watchout for Mr. Hayes and the "F" stamp.

Hold On To The Moment

Single file and yet together,
We have shared our greatest days.
And we carry common memories
In different ways.
Though we don't know where we're going,
We will cherish where we've been.

I want to cry.
I want to shout . . .
Want to let this feeling out.

Hold on to the moment.
Let the feelings show.
Hold on to the moment.
Never let it go.

I can picture us together
With my arms around my friends.
Just let me hold on to this moment,
before it ends.
There was laughter. There were tears,
Through the dozen golden years.

JUNIORS
Thesaurus
IN DICTIONARY FORM

The Junior year is, undoubtedly, one of the busiest years of high school. The year is full of traditions of the past and preparations for the future.

The class is involved with extracurricular activities as well as their studies. Activity buses take students home from meetings and sports events held after school. In addition to school activities, many Juniors have jobs and hobbies which occupy their time.

Once class rings are delivered, tradition takes over. Each student goes from person to person getting their rings turned 88 times for good luck. Next there is the approaching ring dance to worry about; dates and clothes. Most of the Junior class fund raisers go towards ring dance. Ringdance is a very special part of being a Junior.

Looking forward to the future, Juniors begin to think about college. Guidance counselors are useful in aiding students with college catalogues and information about SAT's and PSAT's. For the first time, the future seems close at hand. Juniors are forced to begin getting serious about their grades and activities. The class of '88 is definitely moving up!

Color, Size, and Shape?

Juniors spend time pondering over the color, size, and shape of their rings. In the spring of the sophomore year, each student picked, from various designs, a class ring of his or her choice. Not just a piece of jewelry, a class ring is a symbol of prestige. The class rings give Juniors clout; defining that the student is a bonifide Junior.

A class ring is one of the most important traditions of high school. Not only does it symbolize prestige, but it is also a lasting memory of your high school years.

The ritual of turning the class ring gives Juniors a chance to enhance their friendships with fellow students.

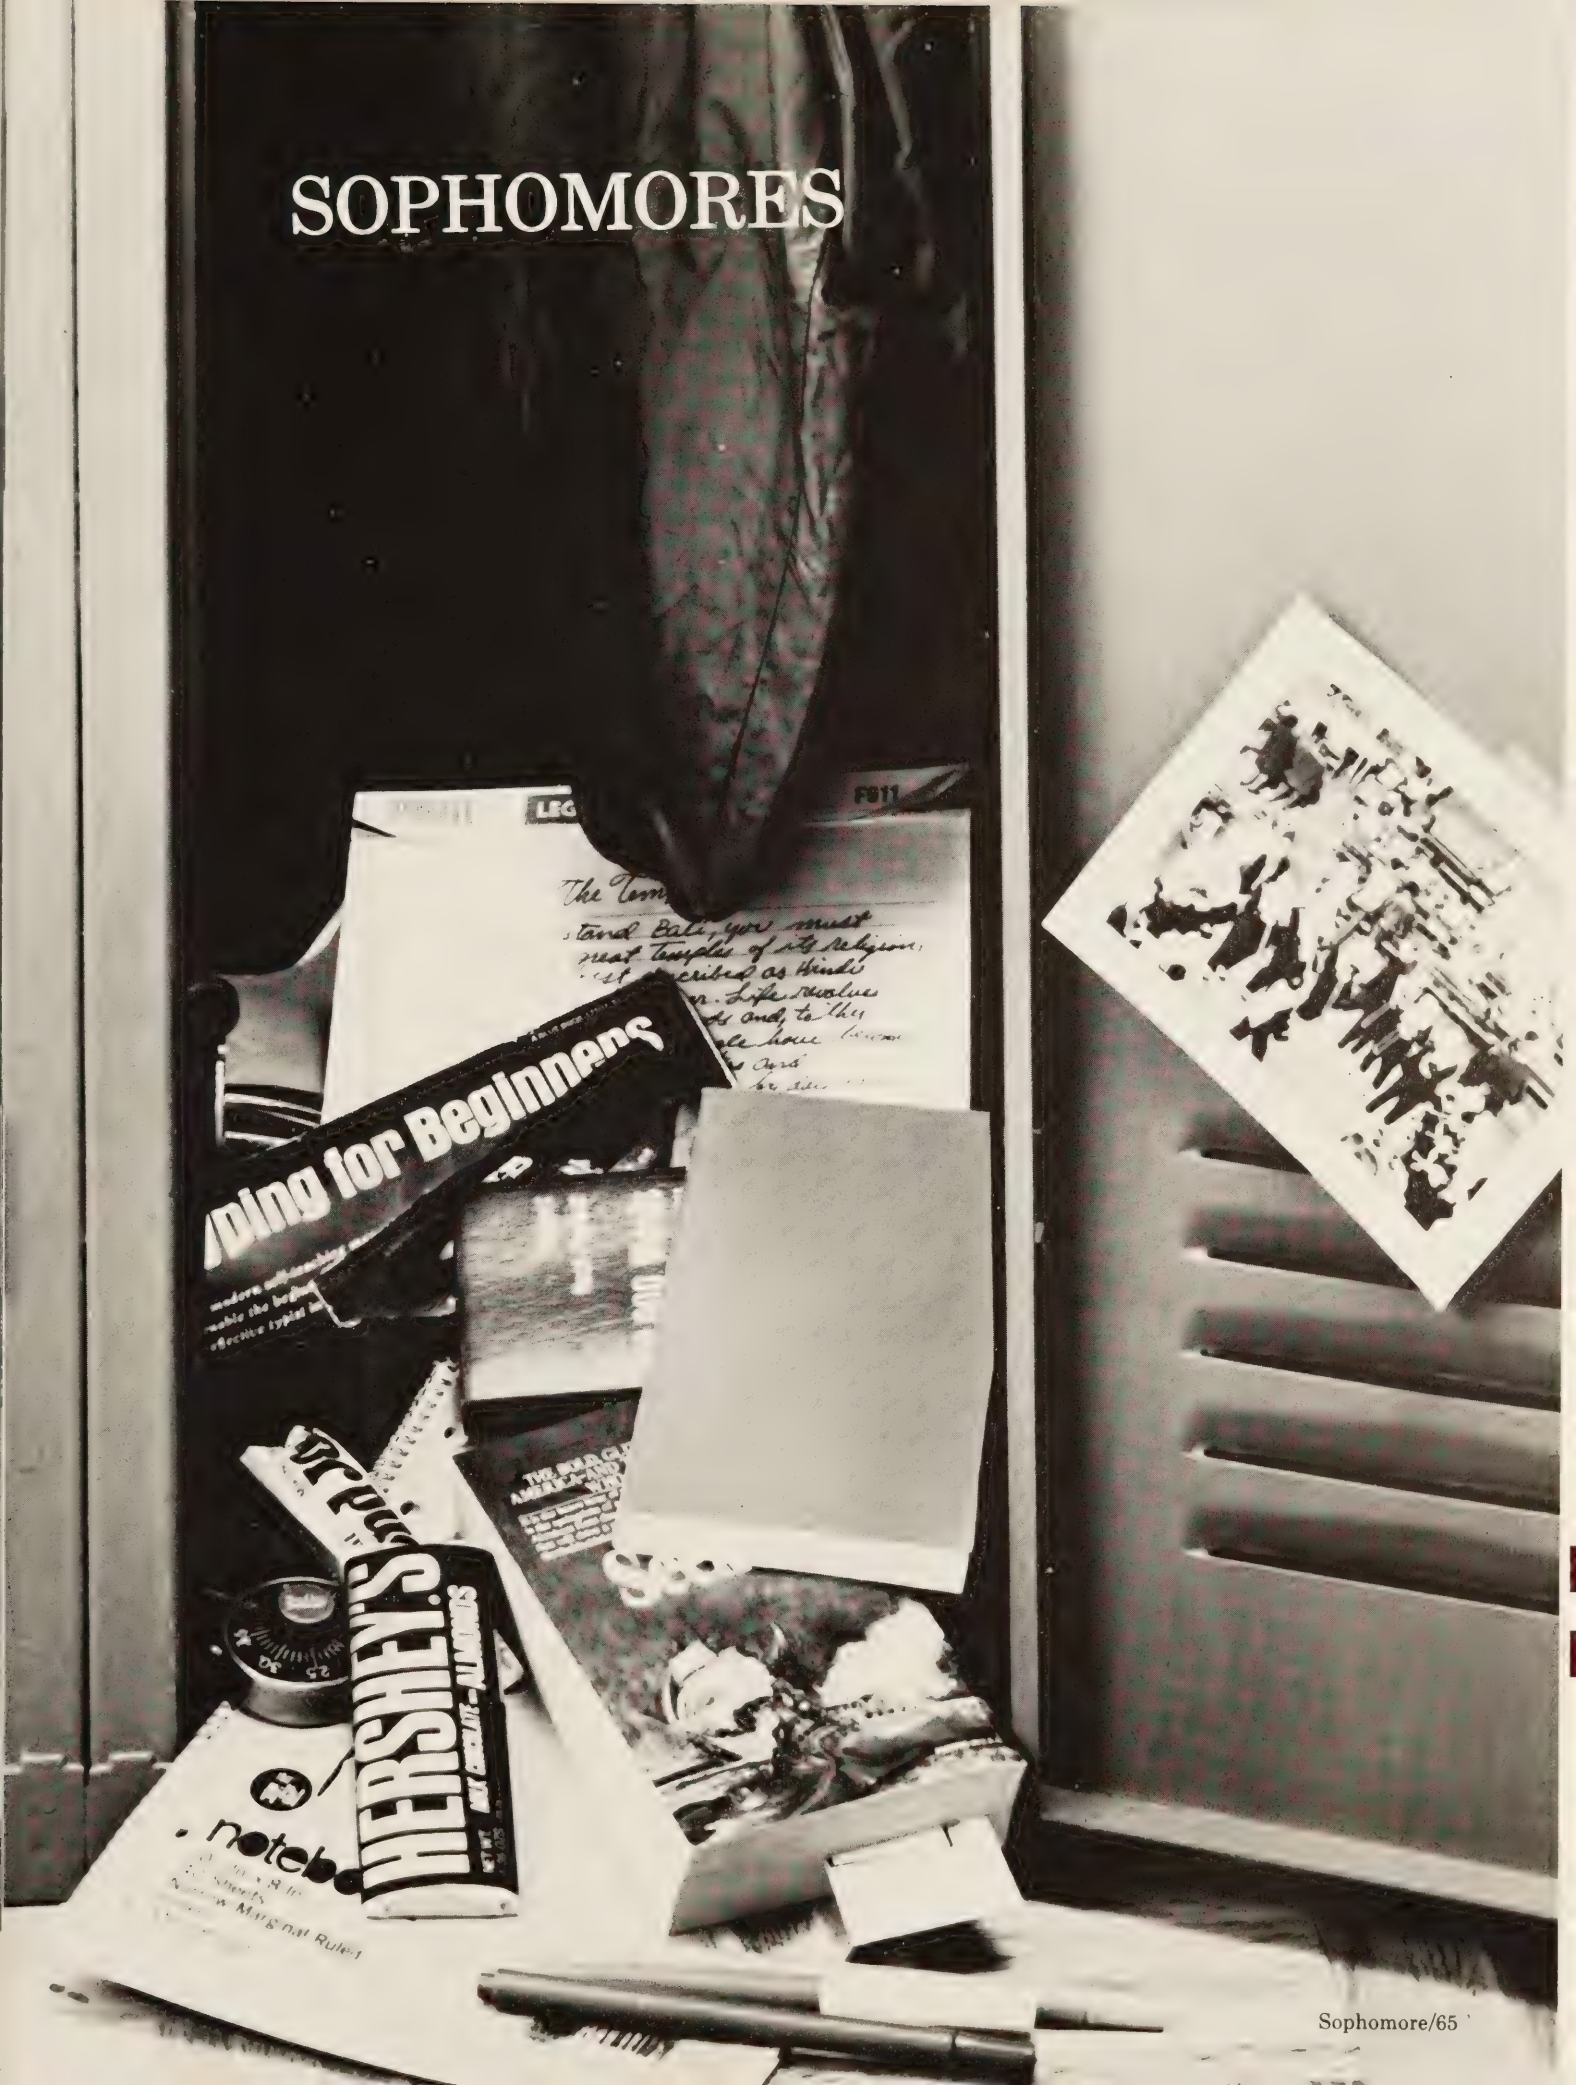
SOPHOMORES



Driving Towards the Future

Driving is a major preoccupation of every sophomore's mind. The receipt of a driver's license is an eagerly anticipated event. Most sophomores however, think mostly about the freedom they will receive by being able to drive. They often forget about the responsibilities that go with driving, such as the necessity for careful driving in order to avoid accidents. Also, often overlooked is the expense — for gasoline, maintenance, and insurance, all of which are necessary in operating a car.

Sophomore Wade Bowman, under the careful guidance of local boatbuilders Billy Moore and son David, learns to build a 36 foot Chesapeake Deadrise workboat. Wade and other area high school students took an interest in the project because the boat building trade is a dying art.

For most Sophomores, Homecoming is a special occasion. This dance is like a Junior's Ring Dance and a Senior Prom. Many plans must be made. They have to think of clothes, dinner, and most of all transportation. A lot of questions such as "Who to go with", "Who's going to drive", "Where to eat", and "Where will they get the money"? All of this makes the night special and one of the first memories in their high school experience.

Some students observe others so they know what to do.

Ford Porter, Sandy Wynn, and Shannon Roddy share secrets at lunch.

Before the fun starts it is the dreaded time of paying.

Courtney Hodges, Dean Gilerist and Beth Macord join the dance.

DEFINITION OF FRESHMEN

Fresh' man , N. A beginner at anything; especially., A student in his first year in high school, college, etc.

Being a freshman means working hard to start off the year with good grades. Good grades as a freshman will start your high school years on the right foot and help you to continue making the grades necessary to get into college or trade school.

Being a freshman means getting involved in school activities. The more clubs and activities a freshman gets in, the more popularity he or she may gain. Getting involved in junior varsity sports increases the possibility of being on a varsity team in the furture.

This freshman class, the graduating class of "90", will not only start at Warwick but will also start a new decade upon graduation.

New Faces Join The Crowd

Freshmen Fit In . . .

As they walk down the halls of W.H.S. for the first time, freshmen worry about first impressions and fitting in. In an attempt to be accepted by thier peers these freshmen conform to the trends and fads of late. As freshman join school activities and become more recognized their faces lose their anonymity.

The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding is an opportunity for advanced education with two big differences: You're paid while you learn. And you're virtually assured of a good job when you graduate.

Four-year apprenticeships in 20 highly skilled trades are offered tuition-free to qualified young men and women. Students receive in-depth classroom knowledge and hands-on skills instruction from qualified and experienced educators. And all apprentices are paid for their 40-hour week, including time spent in the classroom.

The Apprentice School also supports extracurricular activities through excellent social, community service and recreational programs, and nine intercollegiate sports — football, basketball, baseball, track and field, wrestling, golf, tennis, cross country, and soccer.

Graduate apprentices receive certificates from the Virginia Apprenticeship Council and Newport News Shipbuilding. After graduation, the company offers a number of programs for continued education and career development.

Think about it. Earn while you learn at The Apprentice School of Newport News Shipbuilding, the world's greatest, most diversified shipyard, now building complex submarines and giant aircraft carriers for the U.S. Navy.

Apprenticeship is the alternative that works. And pays!

Varsity Advances to State

Symbolic of that Raider spirit — Senior Bobby Griffin watches from the sidelines.

Troy Hickman smashes the opponent as he blocks before another touchdown is made by Warwick.

Quarterback Bernard Moyler prepares to pass the ball. Warwick averaged 19.2 points per game during the season, while holding the opponents to an average of 5.1.

Players anxiously watch the field from the sidelines.

A crucial mistake on the field is felt by team member Robert Holden.

By working together, Kevin Byrd, Terry Shepard, and Daryll Henderson help Joe Prince make a hit on the opponent from Maury.

With intense interest, Coach Lyons watches each action of every player from the sidelines.

The defensive line holds the opponent to no yardage by working together.

Before the game begins, team members take time to prepare by stretching.

The J.V. Cheerleaders were part of the program for ninth grade orientation.

This year J.V. Squad, with two returning members, practiced during the summer to prepare for the fall football season. Four members took time out from their busy schedules to coach a clinic in August for Orcutt Baptist Cheerleaders, and they also helped Oyster Point Little League A-team cheerleaders prepare for their competition in October.

A Rebuilding Season for Varsity

The 1986 Raider Field Hockey team had a lot of potential for the 1986 season. With only two returning players, the team lacked the experience of play on the varsity level. The 1985 Junior Varsity co-district champions will send many talented athletes to the Varsity squad. Standouts this year included Chandra Jernigan, Alphenia Ruffin, Alisa Payne, and Ford Porter. The number of try-outs this year was very small and did indeed affect the team's performance. Fortunately, the athletes out were talented. The team's record was not a true indication of how members played. Hopefully, with the experience the team gained this year, Warwick will have a powerful team next year.

Ford Porter comes face to face with a Ferguson player.

In an attempt to dodge the opponent, Alphenia Ruffin receives some back-up from Tresa Edler.

With a look of determination, Heidi Edelblute carefully watches the Ferguson player.

Ready for action, Chandra Jernigan and Alphenia Ruffin plan their strategy.

Alisa Payne gets down low to pass a Ferguson defender as Ford Porter and Maria LoPresto watch.

Maria LoPresto zooms past the opponent, as Ford Porter prepares to assist.

Trinette Medley fights with a Ferguson defender for the ball.

As Ferguson players gather together, Trinette Medley prepares to pass the defenders.

With an expression of deep concentration, Heidi Edelblute prepares to defend the opponent.

Taking advantage of the opportunity, Ford Porter drive a free hit.

As she leaves the defender behind, Glenda Taylor heads for the cage.

A tough season for J.V.

Rebuilding

The 1986 Junior Varsity Field Hockey team lacked the experience necessary for a successful season. Although they were 0-8-2 in the regular season, they defeated Ferguson (1-0) and Denbigh (3-2) in the consolidation round of the Tabb Tiger Invitational J.V. Tournament to capture the 5th place trophy.

The coaches and team members alike are anticipating the arrival of a new season filled with enthusiasm and dedication.

With victory on her mind, Holly Edelblute goes for a loose ball.

In an attempt to dodge the opponent, Beth McCord uses her skill.

J.V. Lambiotte Named All District

Whitlow receives honorable mention

Senior Ann Lambiotte led the Raiderettes this season as the high-scorer for each game. A transfer from Woodstock, Virginia, Ann came to Warwick at the end of her junior year. She was voted Most Athletic by the Senior Class for her basketball talent. Not only were her efforts noticed by the school, but also by the district — she was unanimously named a member of the first team All District. Ann led district scoring as well, with an average of 26.2 points per game. She scored 1,200 career points.

The passing of the stick between team members is one of the most crucial points of the race. As Chandra Jernigan receives the stick from Lisa Payne, she prepares to defeat her opponent.

The Boys' Cross Country team last year was dubbed "young and inexperienced". This year, although still young, members had one full year of running under their belts and had to face yet another tough and demanding schedule. The season opened with our "Runnin' Raiders" facing the District champs from Denbigh. To say the season got any easier would be untrue. Our team did well in all district meets, and they placed fairly high in both the Norfolk Catholic and William and Mary Invitationals.

Senior Joe Nocon led the team once again, but faced his strongest competition from teammate Grant Sharp. Grant, a sophomore, has established himself as an outstanding runner, with promise to be one of the best in years to come. Returnees form last year included Matt McKercher, Joe Whitaker, and Chris Crank. The Raiders were blessed with two fine freshman runners in Tim Jones and Brandon Price. Both have shown great talent and should become even stronger in the near future. Rounding out the team were Aaron Accurso, Ned Richardson, and Austin Kirk.

Academics

n. of or having to do with schools and their studies; scholarly.

Clubs that allow a student to explore a certain area of interest are known as academic clubs. The academic clubs at Warwick High School include Tidewater Challenge, Model U.N., Science Club and Forensics.

All of these clubs demand faithful attendance at each meeting. Time and hard work is required of each Tidewater Challenge member to practice at 6:45 daily. While Model U.N. must practice frequently for the upcoming convention, Forensics club members must practice for their competition in the Spring. Finally, the young scientists of the future plan educational field trips to aid and increase their knowledge. All of these clubs provide an academic outlet outside the classroom plus an enjoyable social experience.

Learning to operate the computer took classroom time and instruction. Now David Banks is able to actively participate in the computer club.

Achievers one who is able to carry out a task to a successful end.

The In School Scouting Program encourages students to become productive citizens in their own communities and to be prepared for the unexpected through realism, reason, and responsibility.

Troops 322 and 3322 meet once a week on fridays for 50 minutes during the school day. Scouting and survival skills are taught in which students may earn patches upon successful completion. Troop 322 and Troop 3322 are chartered members of the Boys and Girl Scouts of America.

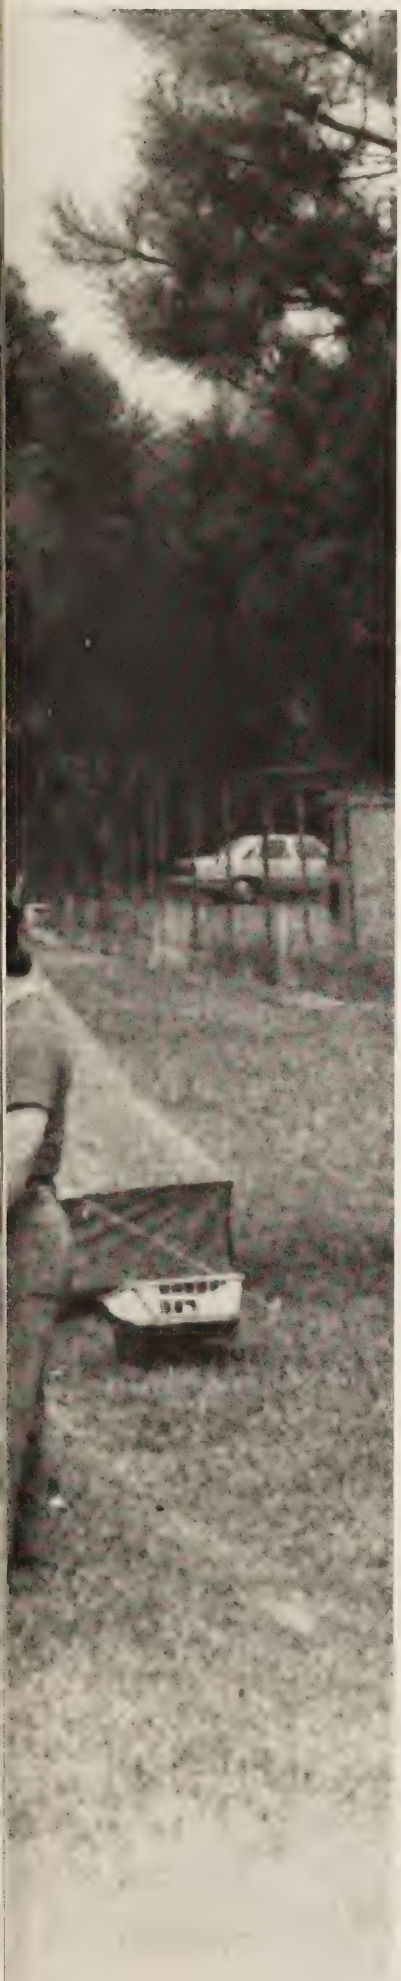
Mr. Richard Stacy (principal) is the executive officer and Mr. Joe Edwards is the Scoutmaster of troop 322. Miss Joyce Lytle is Scoutmaster of Troop 3322, which is an all girls explorers Troop.

One October afternoon the group gathered behind the school for a camping expedition. Their goal was to use the basic camping skills they had learned in class to set up a campsite. Since the setting was supposed to be the wilderness, they used a wok and bamboos for utensils.

They used an iron kettle to heat water and a grill in place of a fire. For their dinnerware they creatively used a cabage leaf for a plate and celery storks for forks. Using these items the troops were able to make a stir fry stew. One of the hardest tasks, however, was assembling and disassembling the tent. The students had a great time, became better aware of their environment, and found a new leisure activity.

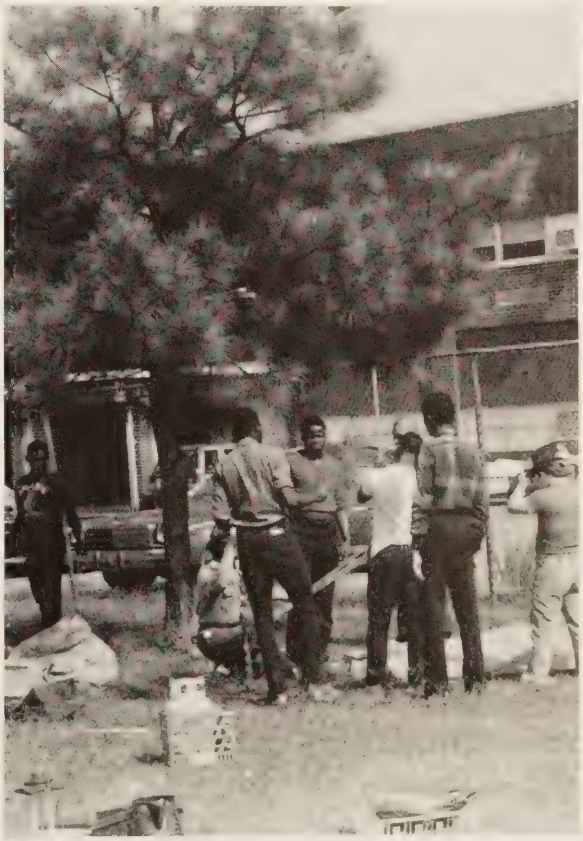
Members of Troops 322 await inspection of their campsite by Joe Edwards (Scout Master).

The Exployers, troop 3322, take inventory of cooking ware for upcoming camping trips.



Dr. Harris (scout commissioner) looks on as several members of Troop 322 prepare to set up camp for weekly activities.

Members of Troop 322 work together to prepare the meal of the day.



Members of troop 322 await instructions from Dr. Harris on how to properly assemble a tent.

Mr. Joe Edwards (Scout Master) and Dr. Joe Harris (Scout Commissioner) prepare scouts for overnight camping.

Assistance

n. the act of helping a person when in need; aid.

Club members provide assistance for teachers, staff, and students daily. Different clubs are called upon to handle certain jobs in the school. It takes a dedicated club member to take their time to serve others around the school. For example, National Honor Society members are called upon to tutor students in need. The school depends greatly on the Sight and Sound Crew at each production to prepare the auditorium for events such as assemblies, plays, concerts and pageants. They also work during these events managing spotlights, stagelights and the sound system. The SCA also assists the community by sponsoring a canned food drive each Thanksgiving and Christmas. Without assistance from clubs, the school would be unable to hold as many activities as it does.

The Sight and Sound Crew are very vital in the auditorium during a production. Sponsor Mr. Garner and Brad Croom adjust the spot light to the correct angle.

In the holiday spirit Eric Moore and Trinette Doles compile the canned food collected by the SCA and prepare for distribution.

Awards

n. something given as a reward or payment after careful consideration.

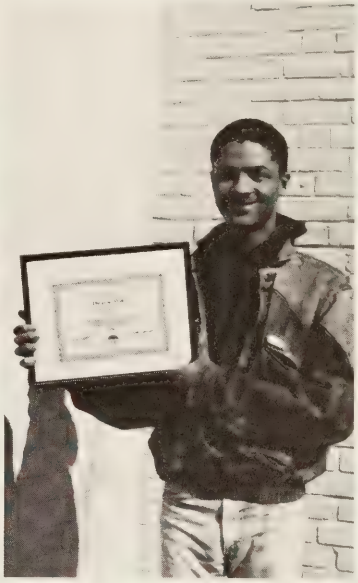
There are many students and clubs who receive recognition for outsatnding achievement at Warwick. Awards are given to students year round by both school officials and organizations outside the school. These awards range from certificates to thousands of dollars in cash. For example, athletes are given certificate awards for participating in sports events and essay writers are rewarded with a certificate for contests they enter. After winning awards for their achievement at Warwick some students go a little further to citywide competition. This is true for science fair participants and the career poster contest winners. The WHS Keyettes have been an award winning group recently. They received three trophies at their International Convention along with a gold ribbon, most improved and achievement award from working with local Red Cross chapters. Awards provide an incentive for students to strive for and give them the recognition they deserve. These awards very often bring recognition to the school as a whole and raise Warwick's name above others.

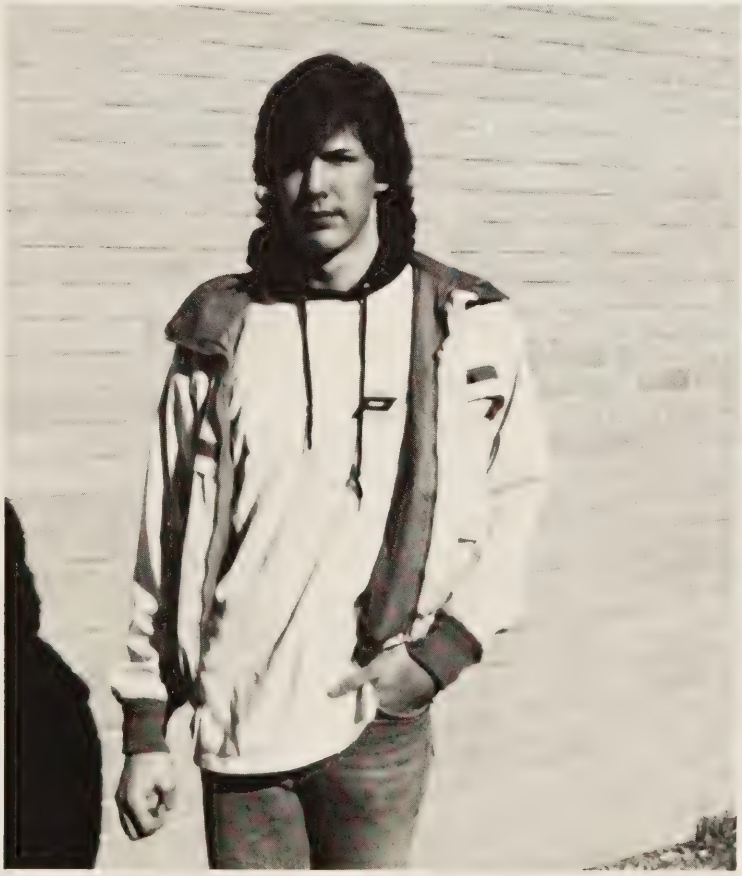
Senior Grey Tarkenton participated in the Century III Leaders Scholarship Contest. His effort paid off when he was selected as one of the ten finalists for the state of Virginia.

Freshman Karen Shanks proudly accepts a trophey for her participation in Warwick's Science Fair. Hopefully this will be the beginning of numerous awards Karen will receive at Warwick.

At last years Keyette convention the WHS Keyettes were honored nationally with three very prestigious awards. These include a second place for scrapbook, a first place for achievement in the silver division, and the spirit cup.

Senior Dwayne Wills was one of two Raider band members selected as a finalist in the McDonald's All-American High School Band.





This year's flag corp captian for the Raider marching band Amanda Edwards was also selected as a finalist in the McDonald's All-American High School Band. Amanda and Dwayne were presented their plaques at one of the home football games.

Senior Danny Foretich won a second place award in the career poster contest from Warwick. His artwork went on to compete in citywide competition.

Careers

n. a general course of progress through life; occupation, or profession.

Career preparation begins in high school. Students choose a curriculum course that will best prepare them for their future. They may choose a vocational program or may take college prepratory courses.

Vocational programs such as Industrial Cooperative Training(ICT) and Marketing Education combine classroom instruction with practical work experiences. Some of the benefits of these programs are paid employment, practical work experience in an actual work situation, and development of acceptable work habits and attitudes. Graduates of these programs are respected professionals in their chosen career.

Students that choose college prepratory courses that do not allow time in their schedule for the vocational programs are still able to get practical experience and money through afterschool jobs. The main benefit of any type of employment is acquiring the attitude, skills and knowledge needed for successful employment.

Based on experience he gained from working with the Mariner's Museum Chesapeake Deadrise Program, Derek Hardy is able to build a row boat.

Competition

n. a contest between rivals; a match.

Competition, both in and out of school, brings success to Warwick students. This year our Tidewater Challenge team continued their dominance with wins until they met their rivals Poquoson. They competed against teams from various high schools including Gloucester and Portsmouth Catholic, again and again bringing outstanding recognition to Warwick. Other groups who participated in competitions outside the school included the band, Computer club, Forensics club, and NJROTC. The band, as a whole and individual members, competed in a wide variety of competitons receiving local, regional and state honors and scholarships. Our computer club represented Warwick in numerous competitions at Christopher Newport College, New Horizons, and Norfolk State. The NJROTC also competed among themselves and other schools in the areas of competitive drill team performances and inspections. Finally, Warwick had some of its own competitions such as the science fair.

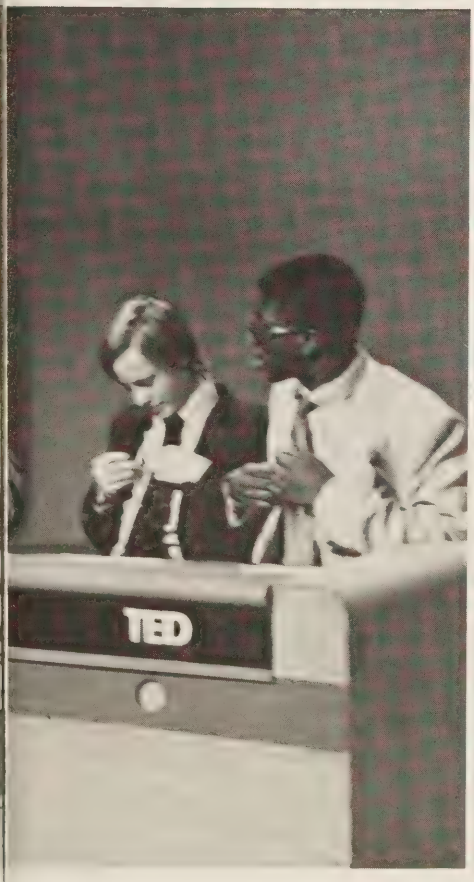
Computer club member Weldon Godfrey inserts his disk into the drive to practice for the upcoming competition at Christopher Newport College.

Science Fair participant Margaret Calvert enjoyed the competitive spirit of the fair. She competed with science students in ninth through twelth grades in various science classes and earned a third place award.

Our Tidewater Challenge team prepares once again to go on the air as they postition their microphones. Laura Reves, Grey Tarkenton, Mike Bazemore, and Ted Wynn have a tedious match ahead of them.

The Raider Marching band traveled with the football team to Fairfax for the State Championship game. Although they did not have an actual competition here, each time they march they are unconsciously competing against other schools for recognition.

After winning their match, team members take time to pose for a picture with principal Mr. Stacey, television announcer Ed Tillet, and sponsor Mr. Field. These students compete with other local high school students on the basis of knowledge.



A member of the crack NJROTC in full uniform practices the parade rest stanza for their upcoming competition at Old Dominion University.

Individual members of the choral groups compete with other musicians from local high schools for positions in the regional chorus. Bethany Gatewood was chosen to represent Warwick at All-Virginia Chorus in May.

Culture

n. fineness of thoughts, tastes, or manners; refinement.

Participation in a foreign language organization can also be a lesson in culture. At Warwick there is a German club, German Honor Society, French club, and Spanish Honor Society. Latin is also taken by Warwick students at Ferguson, therefore giving the students a taste of all four romance languages. Cultural events take place from day to day in the classrooms with such activities as holiday celebrations, film strips and demonstrations.

During the week of March 2nd-6th the foreign language department sponsors national foreign language week at Warwick. The week is full of activities which include trivia announcements, open houses, dress up days, and a day to sample foods from the different countries. There are also various contests such as the trivia contest, poster contest and door decorating contest. Finally the teachers decorate a bulletin board and the library display case with realia pertaining to each of the languages.

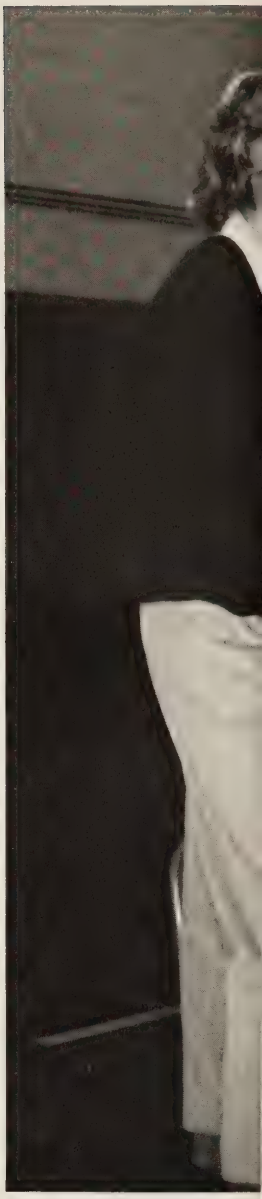
Donations n. a gift; contribution

Following tradition the Keyettes once again sponsored the Red Cross Blood Drive at W.H.S. Each year the Keyettes sponsor a bloodmobile in February as part of their service to the community. The year the Keyette International Project is serving local Red Cross Chapters. Therefore, the Keyettes held a blood drive on October 17 in addition to their annual drive in February.

October's bloodmobile was a huge success. One hundred and forty-three pints of blood were donated, seventy-six of those being donated by first time donors. By having the bloodmobile here in school, it was quite easy to recruit those students and teachers over seventeen years of age who otherwise probably would not have donated.

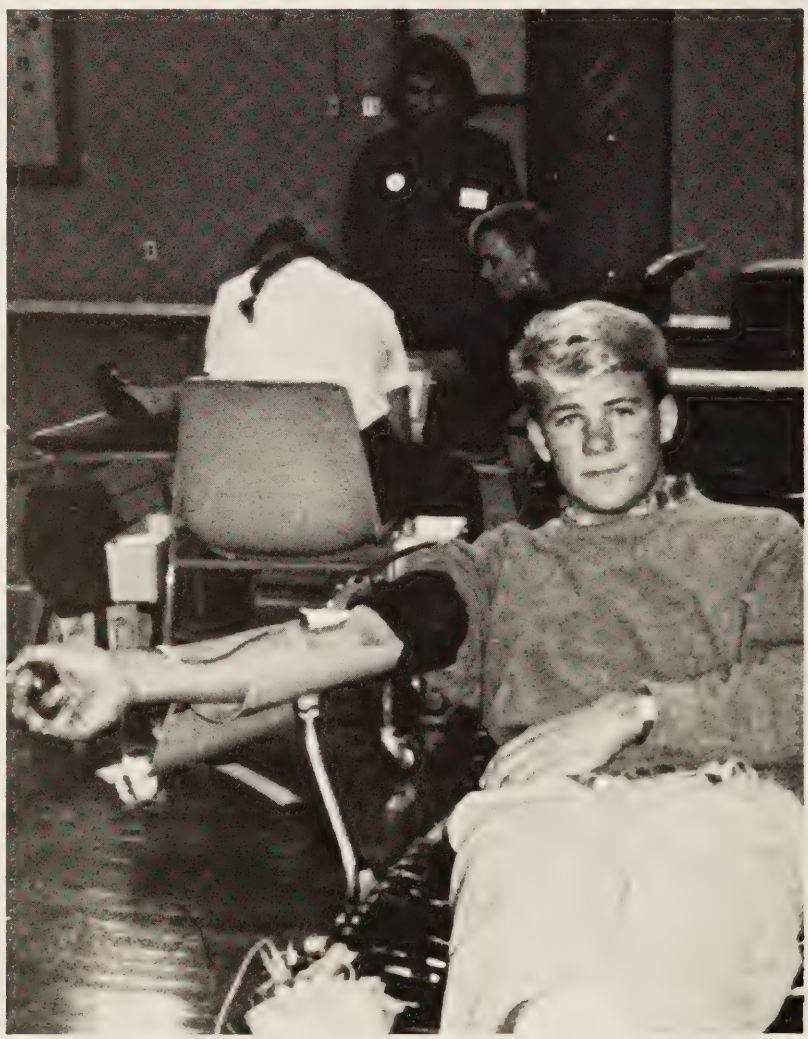
Before actually giving blood, the donor must first have his blood iron level tested, pulse, temperature, and blood pressure taken, and fill out a questionnaire. Although this process is long and allows time for second thoughts, the students face their fears together and encourage each other. Teachers and adults try to calm students by providing reassurance. When the time comes to actually make the donation, the students find that it is not so bad. They even feel good that they have accomplished their goal and probably given someone new life!

Keyette President Meg Feely presents the Red Cross Blood Hound award to NJROTC members Cluverious Soloman, Mike Bradley, and Cheryl Dawson for having the most club members to donate blood at the blood drive.



Before giving blood a donor must have their vital signs checked. Senior Trinette Doles has her blood pressure checked to make sure she is eligible to donate her blood.

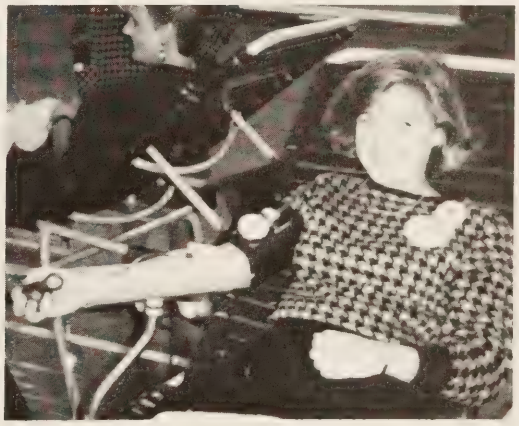
First time donor Robbie Martin squeezes the little red ball hoping to speed up the flow of blood so he can head for the canteen.



Giving blood at the Keyette Blood Drive can be a frightening experience. Wendy Wynn tries her best to comfort Tessy Joyce by talking to her as she gives blood.

Keyette Jr. Vice President Jenny Alford stands by her mom as she gets her finger pricked for the iron level test. Sometimes this hurts more than giving itself.

Keyette Sponsor Bonnie Lowe finally makes it through the registration process and can now pick up her bag. Keyettes Shannon Moore, Crystal Venable, and Cluverious Soloman assisted the Red Cross at this station.



Fulfilling another one of her responsibilities as Keyette President Meg Feely donates her blood. It really is not bad when one thinks about how much it could help someone in need.

At long last, the worst is over. Football players Jason Beasley and Bobby Griffith eat a snack in order to regain their strength for the game that night.

Each year the NHS has a bake sale to begin raising money for their Scholarship Fund. This year's sale was a success as it was easy for Dawn Eways, Tessy Joyce, and Wesley Mills to encourage parents to purchase goodies.

Homecoming mum sales were a success for the Keyettes. Christie Newberry and Belinda Wells are on their way to brighten some young lady's day.

For the senior class, this is their last chance to earn that extra dollar to make prom extravagant. This is why executive board member Karen Foster came early to pick up and deliver the sweatshirts she had sold.

Fundraising

n. the soliciting of cash contributions to support a nonprofit organization.

Fundraising is a very vital element in the success of clubs at Warwick. Fundraising is the only way many clubs are able to raise money to support their yearly activities. Successful fundraising is probably most important to class executive boaards. The main objective of these clubs is to raise enough money to provide an enjoyable ring dance, banquet, and prom for the rest of the class. In order for these events to be traditional such things as a band, flowers, decorations, and glasses have to be bought and this requires a large sum of money. Fundraising is not only selling items but it also involves much preparation and organization. In order to make the most profit it is important that officers check different locations for best price and availability. Then a suitable price and appropriate marketing time has to be decided for selling the items at school. Sometimes fundraising is not just selling candy bars, grams, or sweatshirts, but it can also include bake sales and car washes.

Clubs such as the National Honor Society, Keyettes, and Key Club use fundraisers to raise money to support the school and community through donations. The National Honor Society had an annual bake sale, and a Thanksgiving and Easter carnation sale so that a scholarship can be awarded at the end of the year to a deserving student in honor of Anthony Lucas. The Key Club made a donation to the Daily Press Christmas Fund, while the Keyettes supported a child in India, and made a contribution to MADD.

Love and support through good times and bad . . .

Friendship n. the condition of being friends; companionship.

"Making a friend takes a moment, being a friend takes a lifetime." One of the most rewarding things one gains from club participation is the opportunity to meet new friends. Working together during a carwash, bake sale, or any school and community project is the easiest way to get to know other students who have similar interests. Working as a group for a common goal often brings students closer together. And of course there are the social events- holiday parties, progressive dinners, dances and football games- which provide good times and many laughs. Many of the friendships made through club and school involvement last throughout high school and even through the future. The senior class proved how important friends are by choosing the song "That'a What Friends Are For" as their theme song.The class of '87 also choose a quote revealing their feelings toward the special friendships they had made during the past four years. Love and support through good times and bad ... that's what friends are for.

I value my friends . . . undoubtedly they have made a big difference in my life and were a special part of my high school experience.

Football games provide a time to socialize and meet new friends. Packed in the stands to combat freezing temperatures are friends Wendy Wynn, Paula Jeffrey, Tessy Joyce, Ann Feely and Scott Bohn.

On their way to Fairfax for the State Championship game Christina O'conner, Ford Porter, Beth McCord, and Cary Mills find plenty of time to talk and enjoy their friendship.

Friends Janee Logan and Belinda Solomon find time to discuss the day's latest news as they walk down the hall to their next class.

Participating in this year's fall production "Juvie" gave cast members an opportunity to become better acquainted. After the play, Latonya Ellis and Shelly Jeter take time to pose for a picture.

Also attending the AFS Halloween party are David Wessel, Jimmy Harvey, and Billy Cox. These boys not only work together in AFS, but also play on Warwick's basketball teams together.

German students prepare for the holidays as they make traditional gingerbread houses with graham crackers, cream, m&m's, and gum drops.

Excitement fills the halls as the holidays approach. With the holidays come many special events. Each club has its own way of helping and celebrating. For instance, the Keyettes were extremely busy during this time. Not only did they participate in a variety of community events but they also planned a caroling progressive dinner. Ringing the bells for the Salvation army and helping the SCA with the food drive were the mor popular events for the Christmas season. The Warwickshire singners were busy choregraphing their Christmas performance while the band worked to arrange their music. Foreign language clubs celebrated the Christmas season by making various traditional candy and ornaments according to their country and caroled in their studied language. All of these events added to the joy of the season.

Honor

n. esteem due or paid to worth; fame, credit.

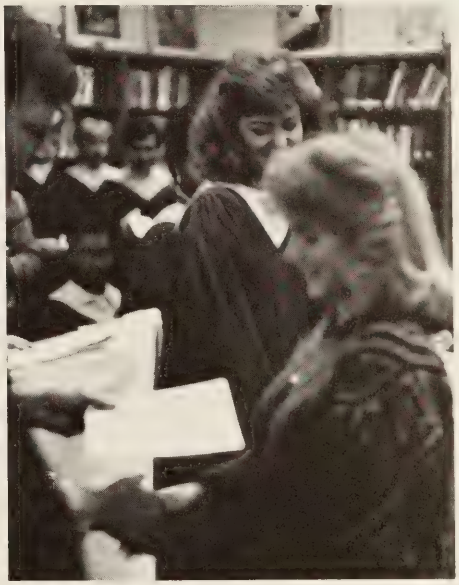
Various clubs at Warwick are designed to honor students who have excelled in academic areas. These clubs are known as honor societies and include the National Honor Society, Math Honor Society, Spanish Honor Society and German Honor Society. Each of these groups has a special induction procedure in which students are recongnized. The National Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society both have candlelight ceremonies in which parents are invited to attend. As students are inducted to recognize them for their achievements each group has specific requirements for entrance. These include grade point average in that particular class for the language and math honor societies and scholarship, leadership, character and service for the National Honor Society. Refreshments follow the inductions usually including a special cake decorated in the clubs colors and sigma.

As a celebration of their induction to Mu Alpha Theta new inductees are treated to goodies and a cake served by Trinette Doles.

Math Honor Society inductees struggle with their heads down to complete the mock exam given as a part of their induction. Although this test has no bearing on their acceptance, their test grades for the past three years do.

Math Honor Society President Ed Fuller and club members David Banks, Mark Boyd, and Brian Nicholson find great joy in grading the mock entrance exams. They make full use of the "F" stamp as they hurridly grade the tests.

New National Honor Society inductee Hope Solomon happily accepts her certificate from Ms. Armistead. This is an honor Hope has worked hard for during her four years at Warwick and will remember for years to come.



At each NHS induction the group tries to present a special selection of talent by one of the members. This year Tamara Nicholson delighted the group with her singing of "Look to the Rainbow".

A sense of pride fills new National Honor Society member Christy Lilley as her parents and fellow students watch her receive her certificate, necklace, charm and membership card.

Involvement

n. the act of being involved in school activities, sports teams and organizations.

Keyettes Paula Jeffrey and Heidi Edelblute prepare to do the afternoon announcements by proof reading the material before they go "on the air".

President of the SCA Eric Moore is responsible for serving as master of ceremonies at the pep rallies. He leads the Raiders in spirit and enthusiasm.

Clubs are a very important part of each school day. They participate in different activities aaround school which allow the day to flow properly. For example, each morning the anouncements are given by SCA president Eric Moore and secretary Trinette Doles. The SCA also handles many other school functions. This club is responsible for organizing the Homecoming activities such as the election of the homecoming court and the homecoming assembly. They also sponsor the homecoming dance and other weekend dances.

The Keyettes also have responsibilities around the school. A different pair of Keyettes give the anouncements each afternoon. The Keyettes also babysitt for Warwick at PTSA meetings. The Keyettes sponsor the Miss Warwick Pageant each year and work in different areas for the school whenever their service is requested.

Leadership n. 1. the ability to lead, 2. guidance or direction.

> "People don't seem to realize how much work goes on behind the scenes. Becoming involved in a club is a big commitment."
> — Dawn Eways

In order for a club to be successful, one might say there has to be both leaders and followers. Therefore each year the clubs at Warwick elect a president and a group of officers to lead the organization for that year. Being elected to an office can be seen as a great honor. The elected leaders are those students who other club members or classmates feel are most capable of handling such a demanding job. Being an officer of a club is not only a great honor but also a tremendous responsibility.

Club officers are usually the students one can find staying after school working with the sponsor, calling places for prom and banquet, wrapping carnations, and finding room numbers for grams. These are the students who must take the blame when things go wrong right along with the glory for a success. They are also often called upon to represent Warwick and always serve as role models for the rest of the student body.

Organizations like the SCA sponsor many schoolwide events. To help with the leadership of these activities the student body elected Eric Moore as president. Eric's job is to discuss school problems with the other SCA members as a group. He also represents Warwick at citywide SCA meetings.

AFS club president Amanda Edwards also has a large responsibility. Working closely with Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Higgins, she has the duty of heading the fundraisers and planning activities for foreign exchange weekends. She serves as a role model for those who visit our school from other cities and countries.

Even though the sponsor may add success to a particular club, the officers are still needed to do the work. The officers work toward a successful year and usually gain valuable leadership experience.

DECA club president Leslie Meridth has many responsibilities. She not only maintains a job through DECA but also leads the club in selling ads for the yearbook.

President Meg Feely, Sr. secretary Jane Painter, and Sr. Parliamentarian Heidi Edelblute represented Warwick at the International Keyette Convention in Williamsburg.

Being a senior involves making many important decisions. President of the senior class Dawn Eways discusses sweatshirt sales with board member Jeremy Call.

One duty of the SCA is to promote school spirit. For the last football game against our rivals Ferguson, Eric Moore and the SCA posted "Beat the Mariners" signs around school.

Leaders at Work

Sophomore class president David Wessel and board member Dawn Boney discuss an upcoming fundraiser to enlarge the treasury.

Another new aspect to high school is having a class president. As Freshman Class president Amy Feely hopes to start the class off right.

President of the Math Honor Society Ed Fuller not only works hard in Calculus class but is also a senior member of the football team.

Ring dance colors and theme top the list for this junior class meeting. It is president Ann Feely's job to carry out parlimentary procedure in voting.

Performance n. the act of performing a skill before an audience.

The drum line usually performs "center stage" when entertaining at the home football games.

At the Christmas concert Fred Williams, Keith Tongier, and Keeler Wilson, use their performance skills to fill parents with the spirit of the season.

Much concentration is required to coordinate playing an instrument and marching in correct formation. However, Kim Hubbard enjoys performing for the student body at games.

Pictorial

n. having to do with pictures; expressed in pictures.

A picture is worth thousand words. The yearbook is simply numerous pages of pictures compiled in an effort to preserve the memories of the year. The pictures cover special events such as Homecoming, pep rallies, and even day to day events which occur throughout the school year. Through them the excitement, joy, frustration, and disappointment of the year is shown. Someday these pictures will bring back to our minds one of the best times of our lives. Photographs and good remeberences are the only things of this golden year that time will let us keep. In years to come these pictures will be our only visual link to our time spent at Warwick.

Pictures, pictures, pictures . . . let me see! Pictures always seem to draw a crowd quickly. As he prepares pictures for the yearbook James Brown attracts students who want to take a peek.

Annual staff members Derek Hardy and Linda Westall take special time in choosing pictures for their pages. As it is important that the best memories of the year be captured.

Earle staff members Lisa Counts and Shaba Bell work on layouts to complete their deadline. The newspaper preserves memories of the school year with special feature articles and interviews.

At the Homecoming dance seniors Scott Bohn and Linda Westall take time out from dancing to pose for a picture. What a great way to remember such a special occasion.

The NJROTC program is designed to give students interested in the mililtary educational experience. One day these "officers" will look back to remember their high school training.

Building the publications of our school are the members of the honorary journalistic society, Quill and Scroll. Members Dawn Eways, Meg Feely, Bethany Gatewood and Tessy Joyce were selected from the schools yearbook staff. Mrs. Davenport sponsors the group.

Rehearsal

n. the act of practicing for a public performance. i.e. a play, part, or music.

Without long hours of rehearsal there would be no performance. One group which knows this very well is the band. The marching band, concert band, flag corps, majorettes and Jazz Ensemble represent Warwick im many different school and community activities throughout the year. At football games they raise spirit in the crowds and lead the team on the field to victory. They also serve as halftime entertainment during football games. The marching band participates in parades and pep rallies. The concert band and Jazz Ensemble perform at various school functions such as the Homecoming Assembly, Miss Warwick Pageant and even entertain with various concerts themselves. However, none of these performances would be possible without long hours of practice. Members of the band are often found in the back parking lot or on the football field rehearsing long after school is dismissed. Each band member also has a class period in which they practice daily.

The Warwickshire singers are another group which perform regulary around school and must have rehearsals to do so. The Warwickshire singers lead the National Anthem at football games, perfrom in the Miss Warwick Pageant, perform a Christmas concert and this year were featured on television. This group has rehearsal everyday during third period.

Some other groups who must rehearse for competitions are the Tidewater Challenge team, who rehearse at the awful hour of 6:45am, the Forensics Club and the NJROTC.

Service n. a helpful act; aid; being useful to others in need.

Some very important clubs here at Warwick are the service clubs. The Key Club and Keyette Club serve the school and community in a wide variety of ways throughout the year. These clubs are probably the most active around the school and require great participation from their members.

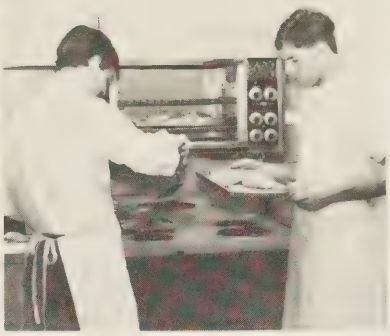
This year the Key Club has participated in many activities. Each week they post school news on the marquee. They participated PTSA fruit sale and sold balloons for the Arthritis Foundation Launch. Members also conducted a pancake eating contest and collected money for a donation to the Daily Press Christmas Fund. Finally, the Key Club worked with the Keyettes to man the basketball concession stand at home games.

The Keyettes have also continued their award winning service. After winning the silver division participation award last year the Keyettes continued many of their projects. Babysitting at local elementary schools for PTA meetings is one of these. Keeping with tradition the Keyettes sold homecoming mums and had its fall induction of members in October. As a part of petitioning the new members painted the teacher's parking lot again this year. The Keyettes also sold balloons for the Arthritis Balloon Launch, sponsored a very successful blood drive, visited the Convalescent home and delivered gifts to the students at the TRC each month, held various social events, and participated in many more activities. Service and friendship went hand in hand for the Keyettes as they participated in unlimited activities.

As a service to the Warwick High School Drama Department, Keyettes Trinette Doles and Kim Moffitt dressed up as police officers to serve as ushers for the production of "Juvie".

The Key Club serves the school by maintaining the marquee infront of Warwick. This week David Vincent replaces the congratulations to the football team with holiday greetings from the Key Club.

Before becoming a Keyette, petitioners are required to participate in various service projects. Fulfilling these obligations, petitioner Sharon Smith and Keyette Sandy Wynn worked hard one Saturday afternoon painting the numbers on the teachers parking lot.



Preparing for the Key CLub Pancake Eating Contest sponsor Mr. Kravitz and Scott Bohn work hard in kitchen cooking the pancakes. Nick Smith, eating the most pancakes, took care of 21 of the pancakes these men cooked.

Infront of Key Club members Tim Morgan, Scott Bohn, Jeff Anthony, and Chad Davies are stacks of pancakes they must eat in order to raise money for the Daily Press Christmas Fund.

The Key Club and Keyettes jointly managed the basketball concession stand. President Adam Morgan quickly pours drinks before halftime.

Each month Keyettes babysitt for various schools during PTA meetings. Jennifer Barbour enjoys this time that she can spend being a kid again.

Spirit enthusiastic loyalty; as, school spirit

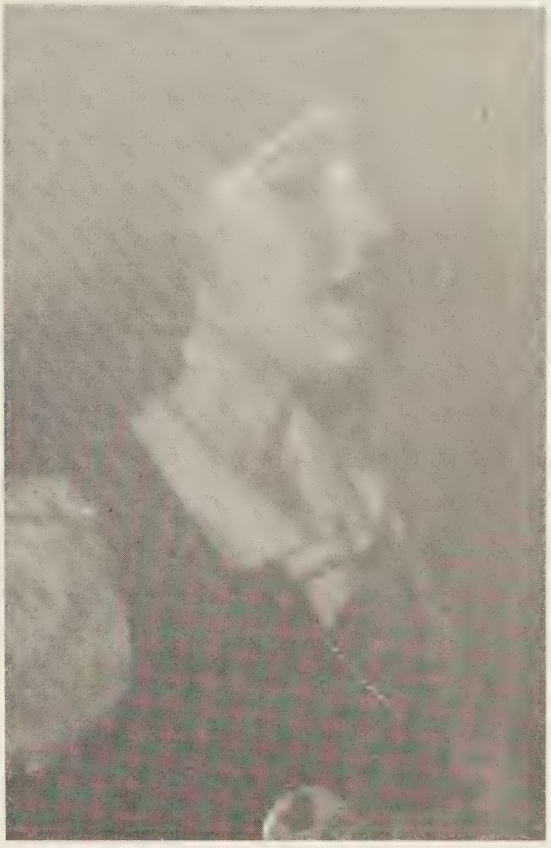
Spirit returned to Warwick this year in the form of pep rallies and dress up days. Friday, November 7th was declared the first maroon and gold day and the Junior class was named the most spirited as they had the greatest participation. On the second maroon and gold day the Senior class made a remarkable comeback and captured the spirit award. There was also great participation from the teachers as they showed their support by dressing up.

It was the varsity football team that gave the Raiders reason for such spirits. They played an excellent season and captured the Regional District title for Warwick. The team even went to the state Division II Championship game in Fairfax. Before their departure the Raiders decorated the halls to show their support and spirit. Class Executive Boards were responsible for decorating their hall with streamers and signs. Friday morning a big send off Pep Rally was held for the Football team in the auditorium. The team left at 9:30 feeling very confident their school was behind them.

Daily afternoon practices are required in order to present to students the best brass performance at the football players "send off" pep ralley.

Varsity football player David Carmichael takes time out from the pep rally to plan his strategy for the upcoming state championship against Thomas Edison.

Senior Tammy Boyd has supported the Raiders for three years as a cheerleader. She excitedly anticipates the team's first football title.



The bands' performance is a very vital part of each pep rally. They establish the enthusiastic mood of the pep rally with the beat of their music.

Warwick's All-State football player Derek Steele displays his feelings about the upcoming State Championship game by flashing a big smile for the camera.

Before going to the state finals each class decorated a hall to promote school spirit. Junior Laura Lising shows her enthusiasm as she hangs streamers from the ceiling.

To increase the crowd's enthusiasm for the team varsity cheerleader Heidi Edelblute shows her true school spirit by leading the student body in a victory chant.

The arsonist played by Ted Wynn is surrrounded by flames of fire portrayed by the modern dance class.

The murder of a rival gang leader weighs heavily on the conscience of gang leader "Dena" played by Kammy Lowery.

In the prison yard "Lena", played by Tonya Kirby, relives the kidnapping for which she was incarcerated.

Store clerk Ted Wynn tries to defend himself from the felon played by Joe Whitaker.

Great performance and good audience turnout brings smiles to the faces of the cast of "Juvie".

The Arts n. That which is produced by application of skill and taste.

> "I learned a very valuable lesson working with "Juvie" and also made new friends."

In their fall production, the drama department presented a play entitled "Juvie". "Juvie" is a play about teen crime and the underlying causes of these crimes. Each inmate is a temporary resident of this particular detention facility. "Juvie" is the name given to the facility by the inmates. Each character portrays his/her story as to why they have been incarcerated. Later, the sentence is passed to each one and the outcome is finally revealed.

The drama department chose to present "Juvie" in an effort to convince teenagers that crime is no way out of their problems. They wanted teenagers to be faced with the reality of the kinds of consequences suffered by juvenile offenders. As a part of their learning experience, the cast was taken on a private tour of the Newport News City Jail.

"Juvie" is the kind of play that touches the soul and no matter how small, it brings about a change — for the better!

Inmate Robin Wolfolk is forcefully removed from the prison yard by a guard.

Time for thought is required in order to write copy for our yearbook. Clubs Editor Tessy Joyce and Paula Jeffrey conspire about headlines.

Sections are divided by staff members in order to lessen the workload on the individual. Juniors Editor Kristin Mitchell takes a break while sorting pictures.

Gratitude

n. thankfulness for a gift or favor.

Mrs. Hanbury — for your endless support and understanding. Although we may have missed a few deadlines, you continuously stressed the importance of quality. You have been a true friend and a faithful sponsor. We may not have made you proud, but we hope the yearbook does.

Mr. Hanbury — for yet another year of putting up with late nights on deadline work. We appreciate your support.

Belinda Kitchell — for the help and guidance you gave us in all areas, including special consideration when trying to keep us within our budget. Congratulations on your marriage and best of luck. We'll miss you!

The Administration — for supporting our endeavors to create a yearbook of which we may all be proud.

All teachers — for allowing us to miss class to finish deadline work and help with pictures. Thanks a million!

Library staff — for the computer we so desperately needed.

Max-Ward Delmar Studios — for assisting us with our photography.

Mr. Keesecker — for allowing us to disturb your class so we could use your computer. We could not have done it without you!

Mr. Horne — for endless computer use, printer paper, your room, and your much-needed advice.

Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Lowe — for the never-ending supply of Keyette pictures.

Coach Worthington — for game passes and helping us schedule team pictures.

Mrs. Hanbury's classes — for understanding the pressure we were under at deadline time and allowing us to disturb your class.

Mrs. Mask, Mrs. Alford, Mrs. Anthony, and Ms. Owsley — for supplies, assistance, and phone use.

Mrs. Krause — for keeping our money from sales straight.

Mrs. Briggs — for allowing us to go through the halls during fourth period.

Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Wimberly — for class lists and our locator.

Mr. Milo and our busdrivers — for planning and setting up the group picture.

Cafeteria staff — for taking time out to have your group picture taken.

Businesses and clubs who bought ads — your support makes this book possible. Thanks!

Mr. Field — for Tidewater Challenge pictures.

Mr. Hayes — for your photography skills and the pep rally pictures.

All coaches and club sponsors — for identifying unlimited amounts of pictures.

Parents of staff members — for putting up with our after school hours and the time we had to devote to the yearbook.

To those who purchased this yearbook: Your support makes our hard work worthwhile. Thank you for making this year one to remember.

Although the creation of a yearbook is a difficult task, staff members find time to relax and pose for a picture.

To check spellings of names, the guidance office provided the staff with a locator. Tracey Redden makes use of this in the completion of a deadline.

The last few minutes before lunch are occupied by waiting for the bell to ring. Staff members Linda Westall and Jill David prepare to make the lunch-time dash.

A photographer must be available to attend various school functions. Staff photographer James Brown waits to capture the Homecoming Dance on film.

Review v. to re-examine; to consider critically.

Our year began on September 2,1986. While we welcomed the class of 1990, the class of '87 prepared for their final high school moments.

Although this school year was similar to others in many ways, the differences were apparent. People, ideas, activities and classes made the 1986-87 a unique one. Here are a few of the highlights.

... The year 1986 brought an interesting change to Warwick. Because of state legislation prohibiting smoking of those under eighteen, smoking was no longer permitted on school grounds.

... The Keyettes were unable to sponsor the annual Miss Warwick Pageant. Because of faulty wiring, the auditorium was closed for all plays, programs, and performances.

... Many students and faculty members were outraged by the bad publicity given to Warwick by the Daily Press and Times-Herald. These newspapers printed several articles about the "riots" in the hallways, accusing Warwick of gang violence and fighting. Following these articles were letters to the editor written by a variety of Warwick organizations, students, teachers, and administrators.

... Two Warwick students were honored with recognition from national organizations. Laura Reves was a National Merit Scholarship Finalist, while David Banks was named a semi-finalist for the National Achievement Scholarship program.

... Vacations were a welcome relief from the typical day. This year we had a full two weeks for our winter holiday, but the much-needed spring break was cut down to three days. However, winter was not kind to us — we were forced to make-up several snow days on our "vacation time".

... Bringing much glory to Warwick, our Varsity Football team earned several titles during their season. The team was second place in the state for Group AAA Division 2. Player Derek Steele also earned many honors, for he was named a member of the All District, All Regional and All State teams, with an honorable mention for All American. Vincent Lassiter was named a second team All State member.

... Several clubs were extremely active this year, including the Keyettes. Because of the very successful blood drives held at Warwick, the Red Cross honored the Keyettes with outstanding service awards.

... To increase awareness of the problem with drinking and driving, the National Honor Society launched a campaign to fight this sitation. This project included surveys, signs in the hallways, permanent signs placed by the city, and plans to begin a SADD chapter at Warwick.

... In order to raise money, the Key Club sponsored a pancake eating contest. Pledges were made by students and faculty, and Key Club member Nick Smith came out on top, eating twenty-one pancakes in fifteen minutes.

... SCA members Joe Nocon and Eric Moore attended Nancy Reagan's "Say No to Drugs" seminar in Richmond to represent Warwick.

... The Spanish Honor Society traveled to Peninsula Catholic High School to begin a new chapter for them.

... Under the direction of President Ann Feely, the Junior Class held their Ring Dance on March 14,1987. To help raise money, the group sponsored a "Heart to Heart" project to help students find their perfect mate.

... The Senior Class held their annual banquet at Capt. George's Restaurant on January 19,1987. Prom was held at the Chamberlain on May 29,1987. The group also sponsored a sweatshirt sale to provide seniors with a souvenir of Warwick.

... The Computer Club competed in three programming competitions at New Horizons, CNC, and Norfolk State.

... Kim Hubbard earned a first place award in the state gymnastics meet for her balance beam routine.

The true definition of Warwick is seen as we reflect on our accomplishments made this year. When we look back upon the year, we realize that we have grown and made ourselves something of which to be proud.

To those who are seniors, our lives are only just beginning. Behind us are the SATs, exams, college applications, and the privilege of being on top. We remained proud through it all, and as much as we looked forward to graduation, the apprehension about our separate futures remained. The daily boredom we often experienced was necessary before the fun could begin. One day you too will look back and remember that these were "the best days of your life".

Summing up the feelings of a Senior, Tammy Nicholson stated, "It's a funny thing that I said I'd never miss any part of Warwick High School, but now that the end is drawing near, I can see that I'm going to miss the simple and most common things: the slamming of locker doors, hearing laughter as I walk past groups conversing in the hallways, and receiving both a hug and a reassuring smile when needed." To all Seniors, we have finally made it, and through it all we have never failed to come out on top.
